

Occupational Safety & Health Research Institute

- Primary Contact
- Organizational Overview
- Scope of Standards Developing Activity
- Quick Links

Primary Contact

Ryu, Bo-Hyuk

Director/Ph.d./P.E

#34-4, Gusan-Dong, Bupyeong-Gu, Incheon, 403-711, Republic of Korea

Phone: 82.32.5100.785

Fax: 82.32.518.0867

Email: bhryu@kosha.net

Website: <http://oshri.kosha.or.kr>

Organizational Overview

Occupational Safety and Health Research Institute (OSHRI) is a professional safety and health research organization established by the Korean government. OSHRI was established to protect workers safety and health promote accident prevention activities in workplaces and contribute to the development of the national economy through enhancing quality of life and minimizing losses arising from occupational accidents and diseases.

OSHRI has been contributing its utmost efforts into conducting researches and developing projects in various fields of occupational safety and health for the protection of workers health.

- Safety Management & Policy Research
- Safety System Research
- Occupational Environment Research
- Occupational Disease & Worker's Health Research
- Hazardous Chemical Substance Research

Scope of Standards Developing Activity

Conduct researches to recommend engineering aspect of measures through analyzing and studying hazardous factors of machinery, electricity, chemicals and construction

- Research on prevention of frequently occurring occupational accidents
- Research on the safety of machinery, electricity, fire, explosion and construction
- Analysis of the causes of major accidents

Development of technical guidance on the occupational safety

Quick Links

- Occupational Safety and Health Research Institute
- Korea Occupational Safety & Health Agency
- Ministry of Labor