ANSI-SPRING
SERVICES CONFERENCE

October 17-18, 2017

FHI 360 Conference Center ■ 1825 Connecticut Ave NW, Washington, DC 20009

Draft Agenda

Event Overview

This year, ANSI in partnership with SPRING, the national standards body of Singapore, will be holding two sessions of a services standardization conference, first on October 17-18, 2017, in Washington, DC as part of ANSI’s World Standards Week, and again on November 2-3, 2017, in Singapore.

The intent is to explore areas of services standardization of common interest to the United States and to Singapore and to determine if there are opportunities for joint national standards or international standards in these areas. By holding the conference in each location, ANSI and SPRING can each benefit their national members and stakeholders.
