

ANSI Foundations – Contribution Form

The American National Standards Institute (ANSI) has four Foundations that are working to increase awareness of and participation in standards-related activities: the Consumer Participation Foundation, the Research and Education Foundation, the ISO General Assembly Meetings Foundation, and the USNC/IEC General Meetings Foundation.

ANSI relies upon the continued contributions of its Federation of members and other interested stakeholders to support each of these Foundations. By working to build the endowment of each Foundation, the Institute assures that these valuable education and outreach initiatives can continue to grow. Parties interested in supporting any or all of the Foundations outlined at right may fill out and submit this contribution form. Donations will be recognized on ANSI Online at www.ansi.org/foundations.
