

2024 ANSI National Activity Assessment (NAA)

Applies to all ANSI-Accredited Standards Developers (ASD)

The National Activity Assessment (NAA) structure is based on the number of American National Standards (ANS), including individually approved addenda, sponsored by each ANSI-Accredited Standards Developer (ASD) on a graduated scale.

This administrative fee structure defrays some of the costs associated with the infrastructure that underpins the American National Standards (ANS) process. It also facilitates the budget planning processes of ASDs by including the cost of the regular periodic mandatory audit. New ASDs only will be billed for their first audit after the approval of their first ANS, on a pro-rated basis. The fee ranges are typically adjusted annually, but were not increased in 2021 or 2022. The 2024 NAA reflects a 3% increase.

Extraordinary services, such as the conduct of a special audit for cause if required by the ANSI Executive Standards Council (ExSC), are billed separately. All ASDs will continue to be billed, as a separate item, for annual ANSI membership dues or the equivalent.
