Greetings –

We hope that you are well.

Thank you for submitting the attached public comments in response to proposed revisions to the ANSI Essential Requirements (www.ansi.org/essentialrequirements) announced in Standards Action in December 2019. Background on the original proposed revision is included in the attached report (ExSC_025_2021). The ExSC has considered all public comments and as a result, edited the original proposed revision, now attached here in its final edited form (ExSC_017). This edited version was approved by the ANSI ExSC in February 2021 and will be submitted to the Executive Committee of the ANSI Board of Directors for final approval in March 2021 for incorporation into the 2022 edition of the ANSI Essential Requirements.

Please also note that consistent with recommendations in the attached ExSC TG Report, ANSI has updated our website to provide easy access to information about the American National Standards (ANS) process and how to participate in it. Please visit the new ANS pages, including these: <https://www.ansi.org/american-national-standards/ans-introduction/overview#introduction> , <https://www.ansi.org/american-national-standards/info-for-the-general-public/general-public> and <https://www.ansi.org/american-national-standards/info-for-standards-developers/standards-developers> .

With respect to your question about the new PINS requirement and whether an ANSI-Accredited Standards Developer (ASD) may choose "will" or "are expected to", please see the updated version of ExSC_017 (line 104). This text is written with the understanding that an ASD may not know all interest categories at the PINS phase if the activity is new. However, if the ASD knows, then the expectation is that the ASD will list the known interest categories. See also the editorial update, removing parenthetical and adding "or".

Again, thank you for your interest and your comments.

Sincerely,
Anne
