Registration Now Open!

Federal Employee Credentialing Training Session

May 15, 2017 ǁ 8:30 am – 4:00 pm
20 F Street NW Conference Center ǁ 20 F Street NW, Washington DC, 20001

Building a Federal Workforce through Quality Credentialing

Register today for Building a Federal Workforce through Quality Credentialing, a training session for federal employees involved in managing, leading, or creating credentialing programs, including chief learning officers, training officers, and HR professionals. Hosted by Workcred, an affiliate of the American National Standards Institute (ANSI), the training session will:

- ✓ Educate federal credentialing employees so they can be more effective in their jobs
- ✓ Provide insights on credentialing trends and developments
- ✓ Illustrate best practices in developing and maintaining credentialing programs

REGISTER HERE to confirm your attendance. There is no fee to attend.

Credentials are the currency of the job market.

But understanding the ins and outs of credentialing and its role in building a competency-based federal workforce can be a challenge.

~~~

Join us for a special keynote and interactive, knowledge-building discussions.

End the day armed with new knowledge, practical insights, and a network of federal credentialing employees and experts.

Session Highlights:

- Keynote speaker Jane Oates, Assistant Secretary, Employment and Training, U.S. Department of Labor, 2009-2013
- Presentations on federal credentialing models and initiatives
- An educational session on certification and continuing competency
- Interactive roundtable discussions on: (1) steps to building a certification, (2) best practices and lessons learned (3) opportunities for agencies related to the web-based Credential Registry